Is the internet a little too quite for you? Want to make some money from your blog or website? Companies and individuals worldwide have joined a revolution in online advertising: Pay Per Play Ads. EasyPPP is offering publishers, webmasters, and advertisers alike a phenomenal, easy new advertising solution for their websites and blogs. There are currently over 650 million registered websites, with over 34 billion web pages on the internet.

EasyPPP has successfully launched their public website, <http://www.easyppp.com> - in final preparations to launch Audio Advertisements to over 6 million web pages playing audio advertisements from over 66,000 advertisers. These audio advertisements will play 5 second advertisements when a person visits a page publishing this content, beginning February 1, 2008.

Publishers and webmasters need EasyPPP because they provide an advertising solution that pays for 100% of the traffic to their site or blog. Visitors do not have to click anything, and the ads are only 5 seconds long. Visitors are never sent to another website, as the current popular web advertising methods require. Publishers make 25% of the revenue from ads played on their sites.

A popular website or blog can now ad a significant, income stream with no cost to them.

Advertisers need EasyPPP because they reach very specific demographics, or as general of a population as the internet offers. By targeting specific demographics, geographical territories, types of business, plus more, EasyPPP and NetAudioAds provide a very noticable advertising campaign to fit the needs of any advertiser. Combined with low advertising rates, starting around $.02 per ad played, determined by the popularity and spread of the target audience, Online Audio Advertising is the perfect solution.

Visit EasyPPP online today to find how Pay Per Play Advertising by Net Audio Ads Voice2Page can help you make the most of your internet.
